The right start

The D862 is our entry-level device in the Snom D8xx series, well suited to the communication requirements of business professionals. Its minimalistic and functional design makes it the ideal candidate for any office desktop. Equipped with an ergonomic, 40° adjustable 5 inch LCD display, the D862 offers outstanding viewing comfort, regardless of workplace lighting conditions. The 8 freely programmable function keys combine choice with efficiency, such as storing speed dials or frequently called groups. The Snom D862 combines advanced technology, excellent voice quality and an optimal design in one device - at an unbeatable price. This makes the D862 the ideal entry-level device into the world of professional IP telephony.
